DCA is Awarded Federal Grant!

On October 1, 2021, the Department of Children's Advocacy (DCA) was awarded a federal grant through the Department of Public Safety (DPS). DCA's grant is entitled "The Juvenile Court Program" and is designed to promote placements of justice-involved youth in the least restrictive, most family-like setting based on the youth's needs; to promote community-based alternatives to detention; and to promote equity for justice-involved youth. DCA's grant implementation will include gathering, analyzing, and applying quantitative and qualitative data through court observation in three pilot counties: Richland, Aiken, and York. In the coming weeks, DCA will be posting the position for a grant coordinator. Congratulations to Deputy Child Advocate of System Improvement Kayla Capps for submitting a successful grant application!

Deputy Child Advocate of System Improvement

KAYLA CAPPS, J.D.

Deputy Child Advocate of System Improvement

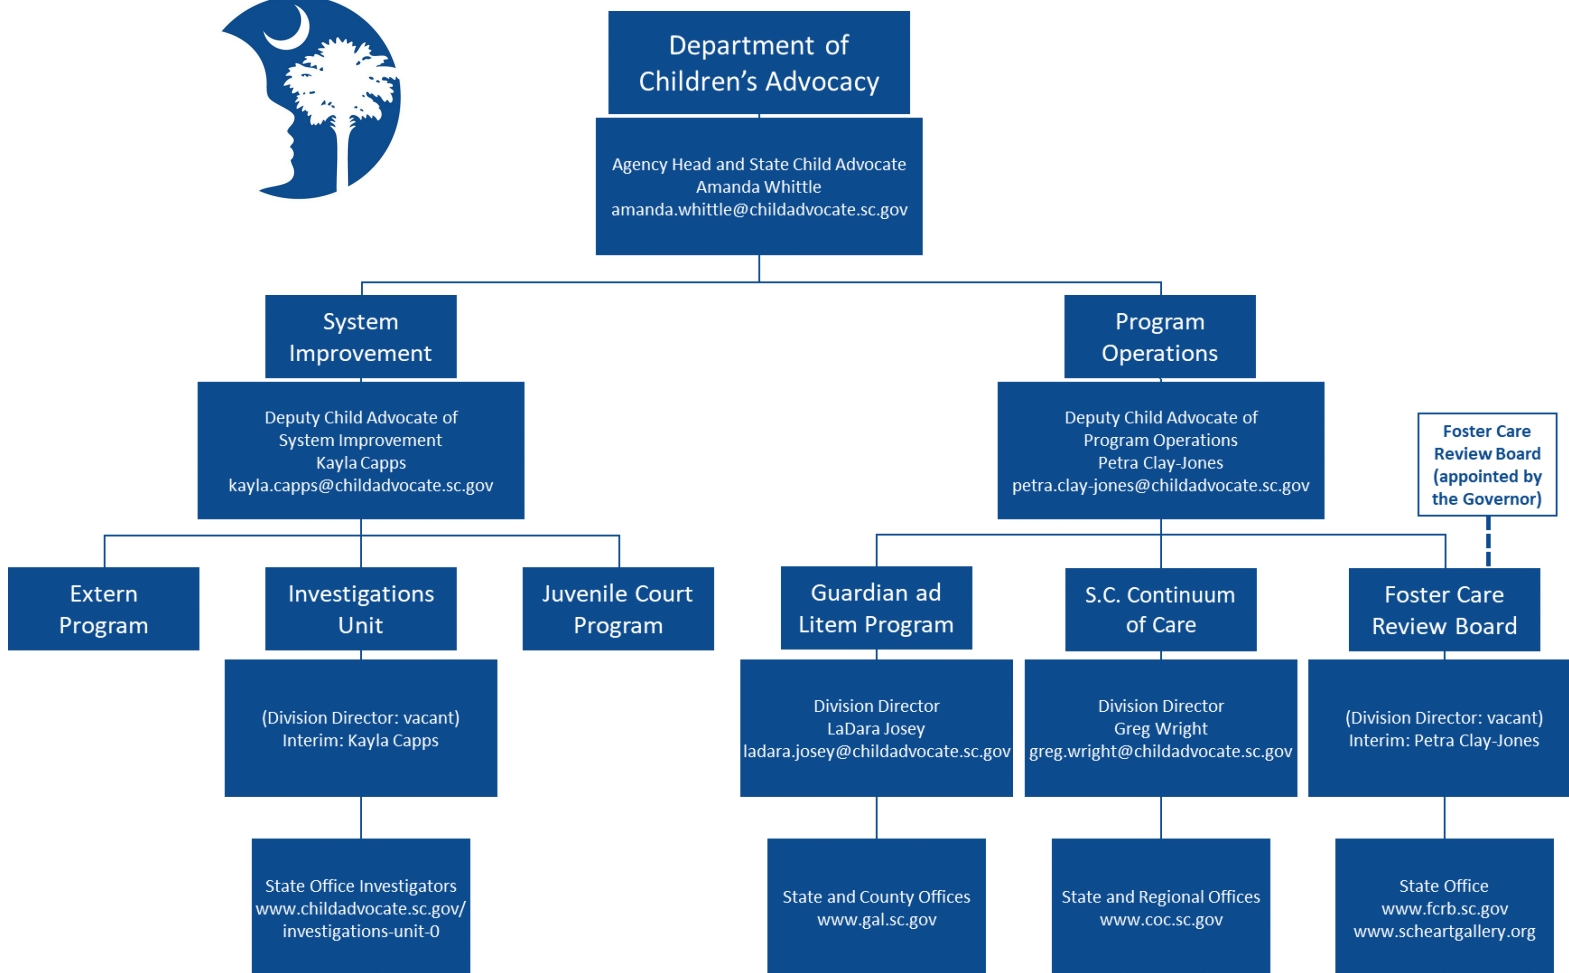

DCA Director Amanda Whittle has modified the agency's organizational structure and re-designated Kayla Capps' title from Deputy Child Advocate of Investigations to Deputy Child Advocate of System Improvement. Deputy Capps' title was formally changed in an effort to appropriately describe her current role within the agency and her contribution to our state's system of care.

Director Whittle hired Kayla Capps as a deputy in December of 2019 for the primary role of developing, supervising, and leading the Investigations Unit. Since that time, Deputy Capps has developed and implemented critical incident notification processes with other agencies; created a call tracking system; reconfigured the Investigation Unit's methods for data entry and issue tracking; contracted with an interpreting agency to engage interpreters for callers; provided supervision and training for the Investigations Unit; redesigned the Investigation Unit's website information; and made significant progress with establishing and exceeding accountability measures for the Investigations Unit.

Beyond the scope of supervising the Investigations Unit, Deputy Capps co-created an online Resource Library; serves on and contributes to system improvement committees regarding DSS, DMH and DJJ; successfully completed safeTALK and ASIST suicide prevention training; and has prepared and submitted two grant applications regarding juvenile justice reform. Deputy Capps also established a relationship between the Department of Children's Advocacy and the University of South Carolina School of Law's Extern Program. As a result of her initiative, our agency has benefitted from having third year law student externs with the agency for the Spring 2020; Fall 2020; Spring 2021; Summer 2021; and Fall 2021 semesters. Deputy Capps has created objectives and schedules for the externs and has provided supervision, coaching, and learning opportunities for them. The externs have been invaluable contributors to the agency regarding research, data compilation, visibility and awareness, and process improvement. Deputy Capps is interviewing candidates for the Spring 2022 semester. Deputy Capps has conducted site visits; engaged with children, youth and families; participated in court hearings; and collaborated with other agencies in case specific and system improvement advocacy. Through her leadership, Deputy Capps has increased the agency's capacity to meet overarching legislative duties and improve outcomes for children.

Thank you and congratulations to Deputy Kayla Capps!

Joint Citizens and Legislative Committee on Children

The Joint Citizens and Legislative Committee on Children was created by statute to research issues regarding the children of South Carolina and to offer policy and legislative recommendations to the Governor and Legislature.

The South Carolina Joint Citizens and Legislative Committee on Children (the "Children's Committee") held their last 2021 Fall public hearing on October 15, 2021 in Charleston, South Carolina. "Tonight, we heard about human trafficking, we heard about maybe a change in the child abuse and neglect definition that's in the statute. We heard about incredible work that's going on with advocates all over the state and folks that are asking legislators to support that," Amanda Whittle, State Child Advocate and Director of South Carolina Department of Children's Advocacy, said. Whittle says she's "proud to be part of a state that gives people access to legislators and leaders at the state level and says she believes legislative action will happen for some of the issues discussed tonight."

Safe Sleep Awareness in October and Beyond

Approximately 3500 infants die in the United States each year due to sleep-related issues. In South Carolina, unsafe sleep is the leading cause of infant death after the first month of life based on SCDHEC data.

Governor Henry McMaster proclaimed October as Safe Sleep Awareness Month. A Safe Sleep Summit included weekly sessions during the month to raise awareness and to provide education regarding the ways to prevent sleep-related infant deaths. Awareness month ends, but our safe sleep advocacy continues. Join us in promoting SCDHEC's safe sleep education which is found here.
